

More businesses now expect staff to work through the cloud and on the move, in the UK or abroad, using smartphones to stay in touch with HQ. These are some of the apps that could make your life easier

aRMadillo

Price: Free
From: Group
Platforms: iOS

These days, with profit margins smaller and trading conditions difficult, the aRMadillo app brings company information on over 200 million companies from 220 countries to your fingertips.

Tremendously useful when making business decisions on the move, or in the office for that matter.

Unless your phone is made of wood, there is a high chance that you will be able to access the aRMadillo app as it now reaches some 98% of smartphones and covers the iPhone and iPad, plus the Blackberry and various Android-powered handsets.

Basic information is free, but access to the reports that are readily available for a small sum could save you a fortune in bad debt reduction by checking out a company quickly before granting credit or entering into a joint venture.
